Disclosure of Employment of Relatives Electronic Routing Flowchart

ER will then receive the final executed document and will place the file in an electronic repository in Laserfiche.

HR Liaison will then click the Assign to Me tab at the top of the form.

If there is a covered relative conflict, HR Liaison will identify the conflict in the appropriate section and submit recommendations (such as an alternative reporting structure).

If no conflict, HR Liaison will then provide comments in the appropriate section and submit to Department Head. Comments should indicate that HR Liaison has verified the information in Workday.

Once the covered relative conflict has been identified and verified through Workday, the appropriate changes should be addressed and commented within the form and then submitted to the Department Head for review.

HR Liaison should review department head information at the bottom of the Laserfiche form and correct if needed to appropriate level by inputting the reassigned Department Head's UIN.

Department Head will review the information provided and then submit the form for ERs review.

ER will review all of the information and determine if there is a covered relative conflict and the appropriate changes will be made.

ER will then send the information to the appropriate Vice President for their review and approval.

The appropriate Vice President will then approve or deny the covered relative conflict on the form and submit back to ER.

HR Liaison will then review the information submitted by employee and determine if there is a covered relative conflict or not.

If there is a covered relative conflict, the appropriate changes should be addressed and commented within the form and then submitted to the Department Head for review.

ER will then send the information to the appropriate Vice President for their review and approval.

The appropriate Vice President will then approve or deny the covered relative conflict on the form and submit back to ER.

Once the covered relative conflict has been identified and verified through Workday, the appropriate changes should be addressed and commented within the form and then submitted to the Department Head for review.

ER will review all of the information and determine if there is a covered relative conflict and the appropriate changes will be made.

ER will then receive the final executed document and will place the file in an electronic repository in Laserfiche.