Health Insurance Premium - Wellness Incentive Credit

Please share the following article with employees in your department.

Benefits Services is aware that several employees (and their spouses) are still having issues with their Wellness Incentive Credit not being reflected in Workday. We have been working closely with System Benefits Administration (SBA) to resolve these issues as quickly as possible. We recently learned that a large file of Wellness Incentive completions will be sent to SBA from MyEvide tomorrow (Friday, July 26). It is expected that this file upload to Workday will resolve the majority of Wellness Incentive issues we are currently seeing.

At this point, we have been instructed to ask employees to wait until Monday, July 29 (evening) to check their incentive status. Individuals who have not been issued the credit by Monday evening should follow the instructions below:

1. Individuals who completed BOTH their annual wellness exam AND the health assessments AFTER June 1, 2019 should wait another 2-3 weeks to check back in MyEvide to review their wellness incentive status.
2. Individuals who completed BOTH their annual wellness exam AND the health assessments BEFORE June 1, 2019 should send an email to wellness@tamu.edu with the employee's/spouse's name, UIN, a screen shot of their MyEvide checklist, and the dates they completed the tasks.

General questions regarding the Wellness Incentive credit should be directed to wellness@tamu.edu.
