The A&M System IT Shared Services Conference, Journey to Success 2019, provided an opportunity for us to enhance our understanding of Workday and how it impacts other applications such as FAMIS and Business Objects. In case you missed out on this opportunity or would like a copy of the conference presentations, Workday Services has made the presentations available on Workday Help (under the Use Workday tab).

Performance Reviews
The Performance Review Process for staff (non-faculty) employees at Texas A&M including HSC continues for the review period 4/1/2018 through 3/31/2019. Self-evaluations should be in process and/or completed at this point and managers should now be working on completing reviews (evaluations) for their staff. For more information about the performance review process including the recommended timeline, check out our website.

In addition, Professional Development has several training courses including Workday demonstrations and best practices for employees and supervisors, delivered via classroom and WebEx. Click training opportunities available to view descriptions of these courses. Job Guides are also available for each step of the Performance Review Process.

Recruiting
In collaboration with the Office for Diversity and the Diversity Operations Committee, Talent Management has created a Statement of Commitment to Inclusion, Diversity, Equity, and Accountability in the recruiting process for Texas A&M University positions, including HSC. Dr. Robin Means Coleman, Vice President and Associate Provost for Diversity, was instrumental in facilitating the development and review of this statement. HROE Recruitment will now include the following Statement of Commitment at the top of every job requisition in a section entitled “What we believe”.

“Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.”
